

AMCOM Armed Scout Helicopter Program Selects Clockwork

Austin, TX

The program manager of the Kiowa Warrior at AMCOM has chosen Clockwork Solutions to provide programmatic support for the Armed Scout Helicopter Management Office. In order to develop a comprehensive plan to maximize fleet readiness, Clockwork Solutions decision support tool ATLAST™, will provide the life cycle model simulations and analysis needed to determine current situation and changing life limits of components. Clockwork's senior modelers'/analyst will provide comprehensive tool support and training to program staff to better understand expectations of key performance metrics while continuing risk mitigation throughout the life of the contract.

“We are looking forward to working with the Armed Scout Helicopter Program Office and assisting them as they meet the challenges of the later years of the Kiowa Warrior’s life-cycle”, said Roy Bryant, Senior Director at Clockwork. “Their leadership is very forward thinking, anticipating problem situations and implementing corrective actions early to keep a high Operational Readiness for the fleet. We are proud to support them with our predictive modeling services and technology.”
